Almost a Tragedy.

On last Friday evening Charles Pierce and Edgar Boyd got into an altercation on Court Street and used knives viciously. Boyd was cut in the back by Frank Pierce, brother of Charles, wound slight, and Pierce received a dangerous wound in the left side penetrating to the hollow and cutting the lung. This is a dangerous wound and Pierce may lose his life.
Both men are under arrest. After the cutting it so happened that the men were taken to the same surgeons office and as soon as they saw each other they again became enraged and had it not been for officers and other parties present they would have fought to a finish.

We understand that the Mt. Sterling Floral Company intend holding a grand Chrysanthemum Show this fall, and that it is their intention to offer the proceeds to the Public Library.
One of the features of the show will be the competition by nearly eighty young people for several premiums offered for the best plants grown by themselves. We are asked to state that all children who have handed in their names for chrysanthemum plants are requested to be present at the Green House on Friday, June 1st.
The Public Library has pressing needs and we are glad to see this interest manifested. The Public Library should be near to every man, woman and child in Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county, for the reason that its benefits are beyond any calculation.

On the evening of June 6, Miss Ada, daughter of Enoch Bruton, Harrison avenue, will be married to Mr. E. A. Goff, of Clark county.
Miss Bruton has for several years been a school teacher, and a school teacher she is. She is a bright woman with a well trained mind, and her power in the school-room has given her a reputation as a teacher which she should be proud of.
In addition to this, Miss Bruton is a woman calculated to make a model wife. She is a prize worthy the winner, who,
we are informed, is an energetic, correct business man, in every respect worthy his life's choice.

Prevention is Better

Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acid which causes the disease.
You can rely upon Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for rheumatism and catarrh, also for every form of scrofula, salt rheum, boils, and other diseases caused by impure blood. It tonifies and vitalizes the whole system.

Hood's Pills are easy and gentle in effect.

The case of the Commonwealth against R. A. Mitchell, which was sent back from the Court of Appeals for a new trial on motion of the Commonwealth, was dismissed. So the charge against Mr. Mitchell for false swearing brought down to just what THE AD-VOCATE said from the start: There was nothing in it. The Court of Appeals virtually decided the case this way, and there was nothing to be done but dismiss the case. The case against Tobe Mitchell was continued by the Commonwealth to the next term of the Hickman Circuit Court.

Rev. W. E. Keller will preach the first and third Sundays at Springfield and the second and fourth at the Southern Presbyterian church in this city. He preaches at Springfield next Sunday. We are glad to know that Mr. Keller will remove to this city with his family and again make this city his home.

Miss Rannie Burroughs' school closed last Friday. It was a successful session, and as usual, every patron who took interest in their children, as highly pleased.

The music at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening led by Prof. Woody, was an attractive feature, and Rev. Arrick's sermon was simply grand.

THE PRIMARY.

A SPLENDID HORSE

TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

An Unprecedented Offer to the Subscribers of THE ADVOCATE.

OUR PLAN.

We have made arrangements to offer to the reader of THE ADVOCATE, who shall guess the nominee of the Democratic Primary, June 14, in each race, a splendid buggy horse.

This splendid animal is out of an Indian Culef mare, and is a beautiful bay, five-years-old, 14 1/2 hand high, with fine style and action. A fine roadster and will show for himself on the streets of Mt. Sterling Court Day, at 11 a. m. and at 3 p. m. This is a prize well worth getting.

Terms of The Guessing.

Send 25 cents for three months' subscription to the ADVOCATE and fill out the coupon, which will be registered and a faithful account kept.
You get the paper for three months and you may be the person to whom a present will be made of the horse.

This is no gambling scheme. You pay for what you get, and we, in order to induce you to help us extend our subscription list, have secured a splendid roadster to give away to some one. Cut the coupon out and write in the blank spaces left for the purpose the name of your favorite for each position. Enclose this with 25 cents for three months' subscription to the ADVOCATE, signing your own name in the blank left for the voter.

The names of the voters will be registered as received, and the person guessing the nominee first will be entitled to the horse. Bulletins will be put out giving names of candidates with highest number of guesses, and the names of the candidates receiving highest number of guesses will be published in each issue of the AD-VOCATE between now and June 14.

COUPON.

VOTER.

A Card.

The unfortunate shooting affray between R. J. Hunt and D. L. Smith Wednesday evening, in which the former received a shot in the jaw, has given rise to rumors which are unjust and untrue, and calculated to injure
Mr. Hunt in his race for Sheriff.

The story goes that upon that occasion Mr.
Hunt was under the influence of liquor. While we do not presume to argue the details of the difficulty, or to say who was at fault, we have abundant proof that the story that he was drinking is untrue. Drinking is not a habit of his. We regret very much that this public denial is necessary, but in justice to Mr. Hunt we feel it our duty to publish this card.

Unfortunate.

On last Wednesday evening on the Grassy Lick pike R. J. Hunt was shot by D. L. Smith, the ball striking the jaw-bone and ranging downward producing only a flesh wound. Mr.
Smith was very close to Mr. Hunt, as proof of which Mr. Hunt's face was badly powder burnt. We have interviewed both Mr. Smith and friends of Mr. Hunt who saw him, and learn the unfortunate affair grew out of reference to a misunderstanding which occurred several years ago. Mr. Hunt flatly denies that he was under the influence of drink or that he had a pistol. He says that he went to Mr.
Smith's home believing that he was fatally shot and would not be able to reach Dr. Shirley's, his brother-in-law where he intended to go. The affair is unfortunate and is regretted by the friends of both Mr. Hunt and Mr.
Smith.

From the Southern Baptist Convention which met at Dallas, Texas, Dr.
Priehard, of Louisville, and Rev. J. O.
Rust, of Bardonia, went to Fort Worth. Mr. Rust writing to the Kentucky Baptist said: "Brother J.
Morgan Wells has the finest meeting house in the South, it is a dream in gray granite, wonderful in arrangement, and has all the conveniences.
He has a congregation that will average one thousand. We have never seen a larger, finer looking, and more appreciated intelligent audience.
They all love Bro. Wells and say the best things about him. Since meeting his charming wife we can understand the secret of his greatness."

Mr. Wells was formerly pastor of the Baptist church here, and his wife was Miss Nettie Everett one of our sweetest women.

Three little boys, aged 7, 7 and 9 years, Capt. Lillard's son and two of John Corbett's sons, walked away from home last Saturday afternoon.
They kept going until their little legs would carry them no further, and that good-natured gentleman, Pat King, took them in, fed them and tucked them away for the evening.
At home there were mothers with aching heads. "Where are my boys," was the oft repeated expression, and fathers and friends more than anxious started out and at 1 o'clock they returned and made joyful fond mothers.
They were found at Pat King's, near Sideview, six miles from the city.
They found a hollow tree in which to spend the night, but all of them could not get in it.

W. C. P. Breckinridge is in the State and the ovation expected is falling about two-thirds, and by September 15 we predict he "won't be in it." The good people of the Ashland District are not ready to endorse Breckinridge yet. They can forgive, but they cannot make him a leader until he proves himself a converted man.

Hon. G. B. Hill, of Beattyville has been nominated for county Judge by the Lee county Democracy. Mr. Hill not only popular among Democrats but one of the most popular men in Lee county and a Republican would

THE ADVOCATE.

Canada has one million miles of unexplored territory.

There are 1785 separate railroad companies in the United States.

The entire plant of the Norton Iron Works, Ashland, is now running with a full force of labor.

Over eight thousand varieties of postal cards have been issued in the world with thirty-five years.

Stockholm has the highest death rate from drink of any city in the world, ninety in one thousand.

In the British Museum, according to the catalogue just issued, there are 2700 complete Bibles in all languages.

The Prohibitions have nominated a State ticket in Arkansas. The Populists will also put out a straight ticket.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Assembly, sitting at Eugene, Ore., decided yesterday by a vote of 85 to 81, that woman shall not be ordained to preach.

United States District Attorney and Marshals will be placed on salaries instead of fees as it now is, and they will each receive a salary of $4,000 annually, making a saving to the Government of $70,000 yearly.

Judge Caswell W. Bennett, of the First Appellate District, has been re-nominated by the Democrats to succeed himself. Eighteen copies were represented in the convention and he received their unanimous endorsement.

Republicans are trying to block the wheels of Government. The fiscal year closes June 30th, and it will be their effort to prohibited the passage of any monetary bill for the carrying on of the Government. What is it of these rescues wouldn't do?

Of sixty-seven queens of France only thirteen have died without leaving their histories a record of misery. Eleven were divorced, two executed, nine died young, seven were widowed, three cruelly treated, three exiled. The poisoned and broken hearted make up the rest.

The Paris-born families become extinct in three or four generations in consequence of their feeble fecundity and high rate of morality, and the average length of life among them is only twenty-eight years and one month, as compared with 49 years and two months for the rest of France.

The Alabama Democratic convention met Tuesday afternoon at Montgomery and nominated Hon. William C. Oates for Governor on the first ballot. The convention was organized harmoniously, and Capt. Johnston, the defeated candidate for Governor, accepted the result like a true Democrat.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Margaret Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore, large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

An English writer comments on the English habit of serving fruit after a heavy late dinner, instead of at breakfast and at luncheon, as a great mistake. "I always," continues the writer, "pit Americans on their first arrival at the ordinary hotel, and picture their despair at the absence of the delicious watermelon and huge dish of grapes which is the prelude to a typical New York breakfast. Of course, fruit is cheaper on the other side of the Atlantic; but I have known English people, rich enough to afford it at every meal, quite insensible to its value, and content to go without it until after an eight o'clock dinner, when it is least digestible. Plenty of good, fresh fruit in the nursery and schoolroom is a matter that parents cannot neglect wisely, and would be far more acceptable to the little ones than the doctor's physic, which is often its unpleasant substitute."

THE NEW F. F. V. LIMITED.

Important Change in Schedule of the C. & O's Pet Train.

Commencing Sunday, May 13th, the F. F. V. Limited will leave Cincinnati daily at 12:20 noon, arriving in Washington at 7:40 a. m., Baltimore 9:00 a. m., Philadelphia 11:20 a. m. and New York 1:40 p. m. The train will consist of Composite Car, Elegant Day Coach, with smoking compartment, Dining Car, Pullman Sleeping Cars of the latest and most improved design, and an Observation Car. Emphasis is especially placed on the Observation Car. Built by the Pullman Company from Chesapeake & Ohio plans, the F. F. V. Observation Cars serve their purpose better than any others that have ever been constructed.

As the F. F. V. Limited is the only train having an Observation Car attached, it necessarily follows that the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. alone has scenery interesting enough to demand an Observation Car. The F. F. V. Limited is the only train running through from Cincinnati to New York that enables the business man to transact business in Cincinnati one day and in New York the next. It is the only train that enables the business man to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast next morning. It is the only train for Jersey City, Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connection being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p. m., New London 5:30 p. m., Providence 7:15 p. m. and Boston 8:30 p. m. The F. F. V. is the only modern train lighted throughout with electricity, carrying a Dining Car and an Observation Car.

The Washington and Atlantic Express, also an Electric Lighted Vestibuled train, will leave Cincinnati at 7:00 p. m., reaching Washington 2:40 p. m. and Old Point Comfort 6:00 p. m. Connection is made at Washington with the Boston Express or the Limited, reaching New York about 9:00 p. m. At Norfolk connection is made with the Old Dominion Steamship Line, reaching New York 3:00 p. m. the next day.

Notes On Sheep.

Long-wooled sheep are charged with being more liable to scab than short-wooled sheep. Do you agree?

Give the spring lambs the finest clover in the barn, and a corner for milk and grain, if the early market is your object.

Long-wooled sheep are charged with less resistance force to storms, as their open wool freely admits moisture and slowly dries it out, colds following.

Sheep suffer more from storms than cattle, as their wool becomes saturated and suffering follows the inability of the sheep to rid themselves of the water.

When we give to sheep the attention they demand we shall find them more profitable than steers, and, like the English, give them an honored place in our farming. While others are selling, secure their best and prepare for a more hopeful time to come.

The Kentucky Baptist editorial by commenting on the papers submitted by the Disciples at the Southern Baptist Convention in response to the Baptist invitation for Christian Union says: "It was altogether fair and some what surprising. As we heard it and remember it we do not recall a single objection we could urge against the paper. The Convention was evidently surprised at the formal and emphatic denial of a belief in baptismal regeneration. This coming from a Baptist organization looks very much like these two religious denominations may yet find common ground upon which a Union may be agreed."

Some clouds rise from stagnant bogs and fens, others from the wide, clear, large ocean. But either kind, thank God, will serve the angels to come down by. In old stories of celestial visitant the clouds do much, and it is oftentimes of all down the mystic slope of griefs and pains and fears that the most powerful joy slides into the hearts of men and women—George McDonald.

Blasts of the Ram's Horn.

Prejudice is blind from birth. It never helps sin any to wash its face.

Sin will behave itself a year to have its way an hour.

Brake—do not break the will of your children.

Every good man makes unwritten laws that somebody has to follow.

There are a great many people who get religion who do not get Christ.

Some church members fight other Christian denominations with more zeal than they do the whisky traffic.

The people who find it the hardest to give are those who do not give near enough.

The sick heart needs a warm climate as well as the ill body. Grace is the soul's Florida. How much John Wesley meant when he said: "I felt my heart strangely warmed."

What do you suppose angels think of the man who will say, "Hallowed be Thy name, and then go to the polls and help the drum shams."

A lamp burning badly produces more heat than usual; the light is red and the imperfect combustion imperfect, producing a disagreeable odor. Science says this may arise from the air not being properly reverberated against the flame, or from the shape of the chimney, allowing of back currents, or from the lamp being dirty, the air holes clogged, the wick damp or dirty.

The presence of a trace of vegetable or animal oil in the vessels used for filling or from the oil itself, the presence of heavy oils or rufidizing chemicals. When the oils are not homogeneous, a light and heavy oil being mixed, the heat developed is greater than with oil separately, this result being more pronounced when a poor wick is used.

It is stated that a pall of water containing a handful of hay, if placed in a room where there has been smoking will absorb all the odor of the tobacco.

Have You Fits?

For a fit of passion, walk out in the open air.

For a fit of idleness, count the ticking of a clock.

For a fit of extravagance and folly, visit the work-house.

For a fit of ambition, go to the church yard and read the grave stones.

For a fit of despondency, look on the good things God has given you in this world, and to those He has promised to his followers in the next.

For all fits of doubt, perplexity and fear, the following cure may be relied on, for it is from the Great Physician: "Cast thy burden upon the Lord and He shall sustain thee."—Interior.

The Republican Committee of the Tenth Congressional District, in session at Winchester last week, honored our worthy contemporary, John C. Wood, by making him temporary Chairman. They decided to hold a convention at Stanton, Powell county, Monday, July 2, and that county convention to select delegates to the district convention, should be held in each county of the district, Saturday, June 23. C. J. Hampton, of Clark, was elected Chairman of the Committee and J. Frank Atheson, of Magoffin, Secretary.

John C. Wood, editor and proprietor of the Mt. Sterling Gazette is announced as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner on the Republican ticket. As a republican and a gentleman there is none better than Mr. Wood. He is at all times found on the right side of every public question, and his paper advocates fearlessly the principles of the party. Mr. Wood's candor should have the fair consideration of the District. The district is about equally divided politically.—Winchester Sun Rep. Just so.

Dr. Paul Garnier, of Paris has made a special study of those slum children that are the offspring of habitual drunkards. He says: "There is a law in the very nature of these young wretches that the psychologist sees clearly and notes with apprehension—the absence of affectionate emotions"; and where they do not become lunatics they show "insensibility and pidianness."

Mr. Letter, Republican from Colorado, made a motion in Congress to lay the tariff question on the table and it was lost by a vote of 28 to 38.

A DOUBTFUL INSURER.

His Experience Had Made Him Very Cautious.

A certain Dutchman, owner of a small house, had effected an insurance on it of $800, although it had been built for much less. The house was burned down, and he demanded the full amount for which it had been insured, but the officers of the company refused to pay more than its actual value—about $600. He expressed his dissatisfaction in powerful broken English, interlarding his remarks with some choice Teutonic language. "If you wish it," said the agent of the insurance company, "we will build you a house, larger and better than the one burned down, and as we are positive it can be done for even less than $600." To this proposition the Dutchman objected, and at last was compelled to take the $600.

Some weeks after he received the money he was waited upon by the same agent, who asked him to take out a policy of life insurance on himself for his wife. "If you insure your wife for $2000," the agent said, "and she should die, you will have the sum to solace your heart."

"Donner und blitzen," exclaimed the Dutchman; "you 'insurance fellows' are all liars. If I insure my wife, and my wife dies, and if I go to the office to get my $2000, do I get all the money? No, not quite. You will say to me, 'She was not worth $2000, she was worth about $6. If you don't like to $6, we will give you a bigger and better wife.'"—Ashton Reporter.

For the Intelligent Voter the Coming Year Will Be Fraught with More Interest Than a Campaign. By What is Done This Winter the Fate of Parties and the History of Government Will Be Determined.

The most valuable paper that comes to this office is the New York World. Fearless and independent, working at all times for the best interests of the people, and never for the selfish ends of any ring or individual, supporting the right and condemning the wrong wherever found, it becomes a great power for good throughout the land. Its policy is defined by its well-known motto: "Equal rights to all, Special Favors to None." The reputation of the Weekly World as an incomparable newspaper is fully established. It reaches for the very best and fullest news of the entire country, and gets it. The celebrated "Tariff Mule" articles are again running in their weekly and are creating widespread attention. Its miscellaneous pages are replete with articles of valuable and interesting information to every one. It is a large 12-page, 8 column paper for only $1.00 a year. We have succeeded in making special arrangements by which we can furnish THE ADVOCATE and the Weekly World one year both for only $1.50. Address

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cures, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quick nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Andrew, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

England has won eighty-two per cent. of the wars she has engaged in.

J. P. Tinsley, of the Owingsville precinct, is a Republican and wants to be Jailer of Bath county. What cheek!

Artificial wood for furniture, roofs, insulators, etc., is now made by burning magnesite, together with wood, shavings, sawdust, cotton, hair or wool.

Should the recent snow prove very disastrous to growing crops, and the country should feel its effects, the Republicans will say the Democratic Administration was the cause.

Some very ancient books are to be found in the sacred relics at Ceylon. They are formed of palm leaves written upon with a metal pen, and are bound merely by a silken string.

More than forty-one per cent. of the English people could not write their names when Victoria ascended the throne. The proportion in that condition has now been reduced to seven per cent.

There are four unique mountains in Lower California—two of alum, one of alum and sulphur and one of pure sulphur. It is estimated that in the four peaks there are one hundred tons of pure alum and one million tons of sulphur.

Prof. Virechow has affirmed his belief that no trace of "the missing link" between man and the lower animals has been discovered, either in the physical structure of modern savages, or in the human skulls which are believed to be the most ancient.

At Big Hill in Madison county, lived a young woman by the name of Sarah Yates. She went to Richmond, and forged checks and was arrested and held until her father came in, he refused to make the amounts good and she was jailed.

An occasional bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla does more to correct the tendency of the blood to accumulate humors, and keep the organs sound and healthy, than any other treatment we know of. "Prevention is better than cure." Try it this month.

Hon. R. K. Hart, the Democratic nominee of the Ninth Congressional District, has been highly complimented by his own people and the newspapers of the State. There is not a Republican in his district that can make him an interesting race.

The United States Fish Commission has issued a bulletin on the subject of oysters, which states that the annual production amounts to thirty-five million bushels, of which thirty million are Americans, and of these eleven million bushels are from Maryland.

Although it is not claimed that Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures every ill to which flesh is heir, yet, as a matter of fact, it comes nearer doing this than any other medicine ever compounded. In purifying the blood, it removes the source of nearly all disorders of the human system.

The House Committee on Elections has voted to make a favorable report on the bill of Representative Tucker, of Virginia, providing for the election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people. The report was agreed upon by a nearly unanimous vote.

Good for you, Mr. Tucker, and the President, too, if you please.

Halfspring wire for watches weighs one-twentieth of a grain to an inch. One mile of wire weighs less than half a pound. The balance gives five vibrations every second, three hundred every minute, eighteen thousand every hour, 432,000 every day and 157,680,000 every year. At each vibration it rotates about one and one-fourth times, which makes 197,100,000 revolutions every year.

Prof. Edward Orton, an Ohio geologist, has been making a careful study of the coal capacity of that State, and in a recent speech before the Ohio Institute of Mining Engineers stated that, putting the annual demand at twenty-five million tons, which is eleven million more than the amount marketed last year, it would take one thousand years to exhaust Ohio's own coal fields.

HINTS TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

In packing goods they will be found to create very little if paper is placed between the folds.

Keep the piano closed at night and in damp weather; open on bright days and let the sun shine on the keys, as the light will keep them from turning yellow.

Lemon will do for the yellow white sailor what shoe polish does for the worn black one. Remove the ribbon band and with a slice of lemon clean the straw thoroughly.

A good broom holder may be made by putting two large screws—nails will answer—into the wall where two inches apart. Drop the broom between them, handle downward.

In cases of illness where the burning thirst of the patient cannot be allayed by water or cracked ice, it is said that a teaspoonful of glycerine will afford prompt and comparatively long relief.

Any woman doing her own work may so systematize it that it will be the easiest possible for her. She need not follow any other person's methods, unless they are the very best for her own conditions.

No matter how large the spot of oil, any carpet or wooden stuff can be cleaned by applying buckwheat plentifully, brushing it into a dustpan after a short time, and putting on fresh until the oil has disappeared.

Important adjuncts to beauty are good teeth, red lips and a clear complexion. Strict cleanliness and frequent visits to dentists will secure the first. Parents cannot take good care of their children's teeth. Instead of having them crooked and deformed, by a little forethought and slight expense they could have them made straight and well proportioned.

A number of little things in the care of one's brushes determine the length of their service and the condition in which they last. For one thing a hair brush should be washed often enough to keep it thoroughly cleansed. For this soda water or ammonia water must be used, and then the wet bristles set downward—do not turn it on its back—and left in the sun to dry. A nail or tooth brush should never be left in the holder with the bristles upmost. It stands to reason that water will soak into them in time with such treatment, and that discoloration and general demoralization will follow.

A physician is quoted as having obtained good results in an outbreak of boils by the administration for eight to ten days of ten to fifteen grains of boracic acid a day, divided into two doses. At the same time, four or five times a day, the inflamed areas were washed with a hot solution of borax in the strength of four per cent. Between the application of this lotion compresses were applied to the diseased parts, which had been wet with the same solution. In this way he claimed to have been able to reduce the boils which had already formed, and to do much towards preventing the other outbreaks. By this means he thinks it possible to avoid surgical intervention.

EXTRACTS

From Hon. W. C. Owens' Speech at Georgetown Last Court Day.

"I believe that we are standing today upon the eve of an era of prosperity; that the merchants and the farmers will once more be rewarded and that capital will find everywhere a safe investment and sure return. But of greater value than gold is the blood that courses through the veins of a brave and noble people. Does it flow today in your representative through channels worthy of Kentucky? Remember, as you write that verdict at the polls that sixty millions of people await Kentucky's answer to the impudent and defiant challenge of a wicked crime and brazen infamy. In the name of insulted manhood I appeal to you."

In the beginning of his speech, he said: "My candidacy involves no sensational features. It is not necessary, in order for my election, that you break down the respect which our people have always had for the courts of the country, and persuade them that those tribunals organized for the protection of our citizens have been converted into instruments of injustice; neither is it necessary to believe that every newspaper man in the country is an unmitigated liar."

"To elect me, it is not necessary to charge that more than one-half of our district have become slaveholders; to elect me, it is not necessary to tear the sacred vestments from the altar and proclaim that the ministers of the holy religion have abandoned their high calling and entered into a league with the devil to destroy the Lord's anointed." [Tremendous applause and uproar.]

Mr. Breckinridge must clear his own skin before he accuses others. Scott county endorses Hon. W. C. Owens in the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The county of Scott presents to the Democratic voters of the Ashland district of Kentucky the name of the Hon. W. C. Owens as its candidate for the Congressional nomination in said district, therefore we, as citizens of Scott county, most heartily endorse him:

First—As an able, consistent exponent of the principles of the Democratic party as presented in the platform of the Chicago Convention of 1892.

Second—As an attorney, able and honest in his profession, and faithful in all the offices of trust and honor to which he has been called.

Third—As a citizen, upright and honorable; always a welcome guest at our homes and by our firesides. With these qualifications for the position to which he aspires, we pledge to the Democratic voters of our sister counties of the Ashland District, that the Hon. W. C. Owens, if elected as our Representative, will ably and honorably labor to sustain that high character, both in public and private life, due to such constituency as composes the Ashland District of Kentucky." Who can know him better than his own people.

Confederate Veterans.

In view of the coming re-union at Birmingham, Ala., April 25th and 26th Gen'l J. B. Gordon, General Commanding, asks that the press of the county give its aid to the patriotic and benevolent objects of the organization by publishing the date of the re-union, etc.

Business of the greatest importance will be transacted at this meeting, looking to the preservation of historic records; the care of disabled and needy veterans who once wore the gray; the care of the graves of the Confederate dead, and other matters of moment.

Let no veteran and no friend of the veterans fail to lend his presence at Birmingham.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Marcus C. Lisle of Clark county as a candidate for Congress, in this the Tenth District, to succeed himself, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Jo M. Kendall, of Floyd county as candidate for Congress from the Tenth District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Matt C. Clay as a candidate for Constable of the Mt. Sterling Magisterial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Dr. N. P. Pierce as a candidate for Coroner of Montgomery county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce John C. Wood as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner, for the Eastern District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Keep your eye on that man, Gen. W. P. Hardin, he may be Governor of the state of Kentucky.

Owens will speak in Lexington, on the afternoon of June 11th, and his opponents Messrs. Settle and Breckinridge, will be invited to participate.

Breckinridge the man who has brought shame and disgrace on his district is again in Kentucky going about asking the people of his district to endorse his course by returning him to Congress. But they won't do it.

The miners of Carter county are a determined set, and have deterred to an extent that they have succeeded in the prevention of the shipment of any coal from the mines.

The Democratic Congressional Committee of the Seventh District (the Ashland) have decided to hold a primary election to nominate a candidate for Congress, and the date fixed is September 15th. Both the Breckinridge and Owens men are satisfied.

The House Naval Committee began an inquiry Thursday into the charges of fraud and irregularities in armor-plate manufacture. Representative Dunphy, of New York, laid before the committee the information collected, according to which defective plate valued at nearly a million dollars have been paid for by the Government and used upon warships now in service.

Kentucky Press Association met at Frankfort, Wednesday, June 6th, and if the time is spent as heretofore, it will amount to more than no meeting at all. There is business of importance in connection with the association which if attended to would be of profit both to publishers and patrons but there are too many members of this body who want only full stomachs and care nothing for their business interests.

The inquiry into the operations of the Sugar Trust was begun Thursday by the special Senate committee, behind closed doors. Some sensational testimony is said to have been given by three newspaper correspondents, but it was generally found to be based upon rumors or keyhole observations. For some of the testimony they claimed to have authority, but declined to name their informants until they had consulted attorneys or the men involved.

We have said before and now we repeat that the Democratic job offices and papers are sufficient to accommodate political patronage. There are three Democratic newspapers and two job offices here—the Sentinel-Democrat being without a job office. Democrats should remember this, for well do they know that the Democratic press will have to take care of the nominees, and every dollar given to the Republicans is that much ammunition against the Democrats. Of course Republicans would be pleased to have your patronage, and we have heard of an instance where a man, posing as a through and through Democrat, has for a small commission gone to a Democratic friend and solicited his patronage, on the plea of that small commission, and then taken the work to a Republican office. What think you of such a Democrat? If it is commission he wants, either of the Democratic job offices would accommodate him.

Democrats, if you will observe the Republicans in their maneuvers, you will find they are up to something. They will contend every inch of ground, hoping to get into office. They will have a full ticket from State to municipal offices, and in order to give them a complete snowing under a thorough organization is necessary. We want no quarrels among ourselves. We must march against the enemy with our full strength, and thus show our faith in Democratic principles.

Primary.

Polls open at 7 o'clock and close at 4 o'clock. Every voter should bear this in mind and act accordingly.

Be sure, voters, and cast your votes for the best qualified men offering for the Democratic nominations.

You have many good men to select from, but the best is what the party should have.

There is a growing feeling between the A. P. A.'s and Catholics in Lexington. The A. P. A. meeting on Friday night was rocky by some, and the charge is laid at the doors of the Catholics, who claim that they are in no way responsible for it. The conservative cool heads both among the A. P. A.'s and Catholics express themselves regretting the unfortunate occurrence, and it is hoped that this unexpected precipitation will be dropped and that nothing serious will come out of it. Both the A. P. A.'s and Catholics have constitutional rights which should be respected.

When a reporter runs down a good news item and gets all the facts, in comes the party interested and begs and begs to keep it out of print, and if the reporter has his own way the cousins and aunts and uncles drop a line to the editor which reads thus: "Stop my paper." If their request is granted and the item of news does not appear, then the other subscribers say that old sheet never has any news and we will stop it as soon as our time is up. Between the devil and the deep blue sea is where the sanctum of the poor journalist is, and if he did not get desperate from hunger and cold he would be afraid to breathe.

Capt. B. A. Tracy candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner of this district introducing Father Major at Winchester last Saturday evening, to a select audience said:

Ladies and gentlemen: I am here by special request to introduce to you Father Major, I assure you it is an honor and a pleasure. Father Major was a brave and gallant Confederate soldier, who for four long warlike years offered his life and possessions for what conscience and reason said to him was just and right, and it was my good fortune, on one occasion to save his life in one of the bloodiest fought battles. It may not seem strange to you that there are living links of love and friendship between us that grows stronger as we grow older. Were I the lecturer this evening an appropriate subject would be "Why I was a Confederate soldier and an Iron Side Baptist; but I am not a lecturer. Father Major once a soldier and Protestant, will tell you "why a Confederate Soldier became a Catholic and a Priest." I introduce to you Father Major.

Striking miners made an attack Thursday on the pits of the Washington Coal and the Coke Company at Sickle Hollow, Pa., and as a result four strikers are dead and eight wounded, some mortally. The men fell under the first volley of fire from the deputies appointed to guard the pits. Three deputies were wounded.

On account of reception, entertainment will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, June 1st. All former cadets are expected at reception without further invitation. The programme speaks for itself, that those who attend will have a pleasant time.

The Informal Review of the Physical Culture Class of the City School, directed by Miss Carrie M. Chiles, the accomplished daughter of Mr. L. T. Chiles, of this city, on Tuesday last, was pronounced a success by all who attended. Miss Chiles has had charge of the class for only a few months, yet she has performed wonders. One lady remarked, "I attended a physical culture class in the North for three years, yet I could not go through my exercises as well as those girls were taught in three and one-half months." The system taught by Miss Chiles is not the Delsarte, for the Delsarte is intended to make women graceful, and that which will make her graceful will often not make her strong. Miss Chiles is exceedingly accomplished, having graduated in the City School of Mt. Sterling and afterwards spent some time in Boston. One lady was so pleased with the exercises that on reaching home she said to her husband: "If Miss Chiles has a private class next year my children shall attend. The public are hopeful that the trustees will introduce physical culture in the City School and that Miss Chiles will be the director."

The eleventh session of the Grad School will close on the 7th of June with an entertainment at the Grand Opera House. Tennyson's "Princess" dramatized will be rendered by the advance class in full costume. There will also be a public drill, and the little folks in kindergarten will have something very interesting. The usual price of admission will be charged and no complimentary will be issued as has been heretofore, the object being to make as much money as possible, to be used in the purchase of books for the Public School Library. Written examinations are now going on, and the pupils are showing marked advancement. The attendance last year was as high as 450, and averaged during the year about 350.

Mrs. John Mulholland, who had charge of Emerson Institute, has been compelled on account of the serious sickness of her husband, Dr. John Mulholland, of San Antonio, Tex., to relinquish charge, and Miss Sallie A. Lewin has assumed management. Mrs. Mulholland left for San Antonio Monday. Emerson Institute will close its present session, Friday, June 1, with reading of reports, and will reopen the first Monday in September. Miss Lewin has made a success of her school, and anticipates a much larger school in the fall. Increased facilities will be added and it will be the aim of Miss Lewin to make Emerson Institute the model female school of Eastern Kentucky.

Prof. M. J. Goodwin's school for boys will close its present term next Thursday, May 31st. Written examination began Monday, and the wind up is an elegant dinner to the boys Thursday. The eighth term will open the first Monday in September. Notwithstanding the hard times, Prof. Goodwin has had a successful term, and the advancement of the pupils has been satisfactory.

Miss Mary Duty's school (High Street School), closes its third session next Friday. Four young ladies finish the course and are awarded certificates. Mr. George Belsenger, manufacturer of boots and shoes, advises some leading prices this week. Think of it the best shoes made to fit at the same prices you can buy a ready made shoe from the stores. Then the stock, what a difference, another thing the customers should consider, shoes made to order do not pinch, nor do they produce corns. A busy man can always work for a small profit when he gets the money and this is Mr. Belsenger's plan.

After a lingering illness, Mr. Thos. Walker, secretary and cashier of the Courier-Journal Company, died in Louisville on last Thursday. The Courier-Journal of last Friday said: "For over a quarter of a century the deceased was one of the most valued of the Courier-Journal's employees. True as steel, he was ever faithful, ever watchful of the interests of his employers, who mourn his loss as deeply as do his associates, who in every-day communion with him, learned to esteem and love him as a friend, a congenial, warm-hearted companion and an upright man."

I Believe in Hood's

Inherited Scrofula Cured

Read the Statement of a Popular Teacher

Mr. Geo. A. Zirkle
Mt. Horeb, Tenn.

The statements in the testimonial below are familiar facts to the immediate friends of Mr. Geo. A. Zirkle, school teacher, of Mt. Horeb, Tenn., very well known throughout the county, where he was born and has always lived. Read it.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."

"Dear Sirs:—I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla. I will tell you why. I have suffered from inherited scrofula from childhood. When 27 years of age, my eyes became strangely affected. I could not read after sunset, and when I would close my eyes, I could not open them; but on whichever side I lay, on that side I could open my eyes. This condition continued about two years, and was succeeded by

An intolerable itching all over my body and limbs. I had to have my little boys take show brushes and scratch me. It was dreadful. It continued a month and was followed immediately by a tumor in the right side of my neck, as large as a small egg. I at once commenced taking physicians' prescriptions and continued till I lost hope. In the mean time the tumor changed its place to the immediate front of my neck, suppurated and was followed by others, till it had formed and broken. "Finally, three years ago, another large tumor seated itself on the point of my collar bone and in six months another half way back on the bone. Both of them soon began to discharge and continued to do so till about seven months ago. I tried everything, including prescriptions. I was often so weak that I could scarcely walk and my mind was so confused that I could scarcely attend to my business (school teaching). I was utterly discouraged. And now my story draws to a close. I began the use of

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Sarsaparilla a little less than a year ago, and took five bottles. When I began I had so faith in it. In less than three months both the tumors were healed. I am cured. I was a true blood scrofula; and scrofula habit is a deadly enemy. I weigh more than I ever did in my life, and am

In the Best of Health, considering my condition. Do you wonder that I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla? I can do no less than recommend it everywhere and every day."

MINERVA IN BOSTON.

My Minerva flees the Graces and forgets how fair her face is.
But the fiercest criticism she entirely comprehends.
No she dresses very plainly, after reform ungrudgingly.
And looks on Briggs and Spencer as her inmates and friends.
She's indifferent to loss and confecturer's device.
But on ecstatic Buddhism she loves to ponder well.
And though she never glances at the popular romances
she indulges on occasion in a "study" or "pastel."
She's superior to flirtation she contributes to The Nation.
And she'd be a rank agonist if she didn't know a man.
She declines in social duty to display her modest beauty.
But she's just a poem of Browning into gen-ine low Dutch.
She is mutually clever, and the "tune" takes forever.
For to "vague" she is faithful, and to Briggs she gives her heart.
Then at Art's high altar kneeling she will talk "insane" and "feeling."
And if I say, "It's pretty," will reply, "That is true."
Dare I ever hope to hold her in the arms that would unfold her?
Or, with Plato for my pattern, must I tell my love in Greek?
Let me curb this crude young passion, and, as she courts the old of fashion, Woe Minerva with a problem, and of Zoroasterly speak.
Most persistently I examine, but I wear of

But I wonder if once married I could have

Chicago and Architecture.

It is an unfortunate fact that all of Chicago architecture is not good, but in many of the high buildings her architects have shown that they are moving in the right path. No ordinary strength of the present day have been so laughed at as the high office buildings of Chicago, yet in no buildings as a rule, have the correct principles of high building design been more frankly admitted.
Chicago is so new a city that her people are not so closely subjected to the influence of tradition and custom as in the east. The progressive spirit of the west has no place for precedent where it does not rest on reason, and is not superior to something new. The exigencies of Chicago life having caused the evolution of the high building, Chicago architects have been quick to recognize the impossibility of following ordinary methods of design in it and have attacked the problem in a new way, as it properly demanded.—Scribner's Magazine.

Tops.

Most of the tops that the boys spin are made in Pennsylvania. In one Pennsylvania town there is a factory that employs more than 200 hands making tops. Tops are made of boxwood, maple and lignum vitae. Taking all kinds of tops together, a larger number of maple are sold than of either of the other woods. Boxwood comes next, and next lignum vitae, but in the aggregate maple is the sales of each kind the boxwood tops are first, the maple next and the lignum vitae last. Not many lignum vitae tops are sold on account of their cost. The lignum vitae tops are sold more in the south and in the north west than in other parts of the country. It may be of interest to note that most of the tops used in the peg tops are cast in Newark, N. J.—

His Friends.

Our two little boys were being taught their prayers. Side by side they knelt and repeated in unison until "God bless my friends" was reached, when Red jumped up.
"They're not your friends—my friends!" "No, my friends!" said his brother under a cloud of frown and tumble fight ensued and both were put to bed. All after while was quiet, and little John was talking to himself. "Dear Lord, can't I have friends of my own? and I don't want any. Brozzer always wants what I got."—New York Advertiser.

The Cat's Eye.

The cat's eye stone, now prized as an ornament, is a very different thing from the ancient cat's eye, or eye stone of India, an agate so so as to show the so called eye or eyes. It is supposed by some that this latter was used as money in some parts of India four centuries ago, and specimens found today have an interest to nuismaticists.—Chicago Herald.

If eggs are good, they will immediately sink to the bottom of a basin of water. If they are bad, they will float to the top. This test is a very good one when you wish to boil eggs in the shell, and are afraid of the quality.

It is difficult for the belated clubman to realize that the towering female who stands at the head of the stairs is the timid little girl who once fainted in his arms at the sight of a mouse.

Happiness when at a distance appears so great that it touches the sky.
When it enters our door, it no dwells cognize it.

Fashionable Young Lady (detaching her hair before retiring)—What dreams may come when we have

tled used in our orchestra was a ground

Paper Belting.

Paper belting for the purpose of transmitting power is the next thing which is going to establish the manufacturing fraternity. The inventor was five years assistant to the superintendent of power of one of the great factories of Lowell, Mass. It was while in this position, in which he had much to do with belting and tightening bolts, that he conceived the idea that belting made of paper could be made to do better work than either leather, rubber or cotton.
He argued that as a thick piece of pasteboard can be made to take on a firm, smooth and durable surface by holding the same against another moving surface for several minutes, a large piece of paper made in the form of a belt and permitted to run upon the surface of a pulley day after day would soon create upon its surface a firm hard, shiny coating that would last a long time.

In making the belt, links made from paper pulp are used. As soon as a belt is put into working order a hard, shiny coating appears upon the surface next the pulleys, and this becomes harder and harder as the months slip by. It becomes so hard that only the cold chisel can cut into it. Such a surface works well on the pulleys.—American Exporter.

Hawthorne's Literary Methods.

"My father wrote principally in the morning, while that absorption and regularity which characterize the labor of men who are remembered," writes Rose Hawthorne Lathrop on "My Father's Literary Methods" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "When his health began to show signs of giving way in 1861, it was suggested by a relative, whose intellect, strength of will and appetite for the ories were of equally splendid proportions, that my father only needed a high desk at which to stand when writing to be restored to all his pristine vigor. With his usual tolerance of possible wisdom, he permitted such a desk to be arranged in the tower study at the Wayside; but, with his incomparable command of his pen, judgment, he never, after a brief trial, used it for writing.

"Upon his simple desk of walnut wood, which he had nothing to complain, although it barely served his purpose, like most of the inexpensive Italian bronze inlaid, over whose cover were the faint Hercules in the act of strangling a goose.
My father wrote with a gold pen, and I can hear now, as it seems, the rapid rolling of his chirography over the black page."

Parading His Green Hair.

Baudelaire's really original character would have been more interesting had he not made such obvious efforts at attention to it. One Sunday, the day my friends are kind enough to visit me, he came to my first interview, he came to see me with his hair painted green. I pretended not to notice it. He stood and looked at himself in front of my mirror, stroked his hair with his hand and did his best to attract my attention.

At last, unable any longer to control himself, he said, "Do you see nothing of extraordinary in my appearance?" "No." "But my hair is dyed green, that is unusual." I answered: "Everybody's hair is more or less green now. If your hair were sky blue, I might perhaps be astonished. But one may see green hair under many a hat in Paris." He took his departure very soon afterwards, and I never saw him again in the courtyard he said to me: "I recommended you not to go and see Du Camp today. He is in a vile temper."—"Lately Recollections of Maxime du Camp."

What Ailed Him.

They say that the moonshiners of Kentucky, Tennessee and adjoining states have no sense of humor, and possibly they have not. Be that as may, as I rode by a remarkably poor hillside farm one day, on the headwaters of Big Sandy, I saw the farmer sitting on the fence, chewing a bite of long green very complacently.
"Good morning," I said. "How far is it to Fanshaw's mill?"

"But three miles in the way, you've got to go," he replied in a whisper.

Another question or two brought the same whispered answer.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"Have you got a cold?"

"No, mister," he whispered again;
"ain't that. It's this year farm. I've been livin on it for 10 yer's, an I land's so dern poor I ain't been able to raise my voice on it for the last five."—Detroit Free Press.

Good Speaking.

This good advice to public speakers is given by Dr. J. M. Buckley: "The whole art of making a good speech is to have something pertinent and moving to say, to say something all the time, to say it bravely, and it is a religious speech to say it with religious feeling and to stop when every one wishes you to go on."

Unquestionable.

Mamma—Nellie, I don't know that you ought to keep company with Mr. Gay. His character is questionable.

Nellie—Oh, you are wrong there, mamma. I've given up every oportunity, but he's the only one who questions me apparently.

He was six weeks ago.—Boston Transcript.

Ireland and Irish Banks.

So far as playing a helpful part in the employment of Irish resources and the development of Irish production, trade and commerce are concerned, the banks of Ireland might almost as well be in Mexico. Irish banks in practice exist for the purpose of getting together Irish money and sending it away for investment elsewhere. Of the Bank of Ireland's $12,000,000 of capital, over $10,000, 000 are in the use of the government outside of Ireland.

There is always Irish money forthcoming for harebrained gambling ventures in the Argentine or at the cape, or for dubious schemes somewhat nearer the center of English finance. It is only when a question of utilizing a little of this money in Ireland is raised that a conservative club bunnies the processes of Irish banking. Then you encounter the most unmercifully vigilant caution, the most rigid insistence upon a surplus of security. In effect, no man can get out money from an Irish bank for Irish industrial or commercial purposes unless he can prove that he does not need it. To grant a loan on prospective profits, to lend upon mercantile security, is unheard of.—Fort nightly Review.

Love's Winning Ways.

In order to soften the heart of an offended lover an Austrian maiden has had herself photographed in a coffin dressed in grave clothes. So far from the device being successful it has driven her young man out of his mind, and indeed it strikes one that she might have rendered herself more attractive. This is not, however, always the object of a photograph.

There is a story of a young gentleman who distorted his features so horribly while his portrait was being taken that he frightened the operator. "You are not a criminal," he remonstrated, "compelled to be photographed by the police and anxious to avoid identification, are you?" "No," said the other, "but I want to get my engagement with Mary Ann. I've told her I'll see her I still hear if she wishes it, but I've had a railway accident which has rendered me disfigured."
"Very good. When she gets this you will be a free man," said the photographer.—London Illustrated

A Use For Everything.

What is rubbish today is an article of commerce tomorrow. Time was when 40 per cent of a beef steer ran off into the sewer. Today the steer is driven into the abattoir and goes out as beef, blood, tallow, clear lard, garine, bone dust, hides, hair, horn and fertilizer. Corns, once thrown into the muck heap, are now made into pipes. Cottonseed, except what was necessary for replanting, was spread on the soil. Today cottonseed brings the planter almost as much as his cotton. The lint that surrounds the cotton is pulled out and made into shoddy; the oil from the seed is made up into a hundred shapes, and now a genius who was experimenting with oil to make a varnish for pictures discovered that it can be used for the addition of 18 per cent of crude India rubber, into imitation of rubber which can in no way be distinguished from the product of the trees of the Amazon valley.—Exchange.

A Lawyer's Misgivings.

"A lawyer has some queer experiences," remarked Judge Kohn as he leaned back in his chair while waiting for the jury to agree upon a verdict. "Now, some years ago I was defending a case where the defendant was charged with stealing $7,000 and a pair of diamond cuff buttons.
He was guilty." Then Mr. Kohn laughed heartily.—"Lately Recollections of Maxime du Camp."

"In any event," he continued, "the case was tried, and after a desperate legal struggle I secured my client's acquittal." A few days after the trial, however, the man whose character I had proved to be as white as snow went to the prosecuting witness and gave up the diamond cuff buttons. How they came into his possession I am not prepared to say, but it was certainly a strange case."—

Why No Record Was Made.

Patrick—Yes, sir; some say it was an Oytalian that discovered America, and some say a Choinymian, and some say was an some say another, but I've been in old Ireland knows it was an Irishman that first discovered America.

Bystander—The Chinese claim to have a written record of the voyage of their discoverer. Is there any record of your Irish discoverer?

Patrick—No, sir. He knew if he said he'd found a country wild no Irishmen in it no was no would believe him, so no record was made.

food, and then go home and give you both in the end.—New York

SAYS CHICKENS ARE GREAT GOSSIPS.

Professor Hamerik Declares That They Have a Distinct Language.

Professor Asger Hamerik, the director of the Peabody conservatory of music and the composer of Nona symphonies, has made the discovery that chickens have a language, which he, by careful attention and by experiments, has partially mastered. He says:

"Chickens are the greatest gossips in the world. I know they have a language, for when one is alone it will not talk at all. As soon, however, as it meets another the conversation will begin. Their voices are sometimes sweet and then again harsh and discordant, as is the case with human beings. I have discovered that they have very acute senses of vision, hearing and taste, but they cannot smell. Their sense of taste is especially developed, and after eating anything more than a few crumbs they will give vent to an exclamation of pleasure, just as a person will say 'Ah,' or something of that sort, under the same circumstances."

"They are peculiarly susceptible to certain colors. Red almost drives them crazy, while blue is not to their liking by any means. I once had five Cochon China pullets to which I gave the names of Pete, Pat, Pit and Pot. Pete would respond readily when his name was called, but the others would come only with the exception of Pot, who would come only when I called her name. Pete would come when I called Pit and Pat, showing that she could distinguish closely between the vowels 'i' and 'e' short. There was such a difference between these and Pot that the latter would recognize her name as soon as called."—Baltimore Correspondent.

A New World to Her.

The 20 year old Miss E. Van Winkle is realized in its simplest features by the experience of a lady who visited a relative in the Georgetown convent a short time ago. The two had been intimate friends in their youth, though since the one entered the cloister and took the veil their meetings had been few and far between. During the last visit he happened to mention that on the day before she had been in the shop of the leading store of the city shopping on the third floor.

"What!" exclaimed the nun. "Do they have shops with three floors! I didn't know there were such things as three story stores. How strange it must seem!"

The nun, who had long since passed the meridian of life, could remember only the one story places of business that existed in the infancy of the city. During the years of the transformation of the village of Washington into a great city she had dwelled in its midst, yet knew nothing of the change.—Washington Post.

After Henry VIII divorced Catharine of Aragon (the favorite daughter of Ferdinand and Isabella), he married Anne Boleyn, and there ensued a dispute in Spain, and to show their abhorrence they for years carried around annually in procession a huge alligator (the Tarasque, which strictly means a serpent), and out of the back of this animal sprang a female figure intended for Anne Boleyn, springing they called the "Anavolena" (Anne Boleyn, the "b" and "v" being almost interchangeable in Spanish). The idea of course was Protestantism, personified by Anne Boleyn, springing from the Tarasque, the beast of the slime. The Tarasque is shown to the curious, with the Anavolena complete, in the hall of the English church, as it is approached from the gallery round the cloisters of the cathedral, the most interesting one in Spain.—Notes and Queries.

A Japanese Town.

Even in so small a Japanese town as Atami, which has a population of 5,000, one comes upon many features of interest. For instance, I stumbled by accident on a Buddhist temple on a wooded knoll right in the center of the town. There were magnificent pine and camphor trees about the temple, and on one side a cemetery crowded with headstones, before every one of which, though some of them must be very old, was a fresh sprig of a sweet scented tree, used for the purpose many hundreds of years and having a special meaning.—Boston Herald.

A Bad Temper.

"You say your wife gets mad and raises a row!" said Gus De Smith to Pete Amsterdam.

"I should say she did. She makes enough fuss to run a train 40 miles an hour. That's the way she has been doing all her life."

"But if you knew she was in the habit of getting mad, why did you marry her?"

"Because if I had held back she would have got madder than ever. I did it to pacify her, don't you see?"—Texas Siftings.

American Newspapers.

In the 20 States today there are over 20,000 newspapers of different kinds being regularly issued. Great Britain has only 2,772. We Americans are a great nation of talkers and like to air our opinions. See—John Irving Boone's Lecture.

Retorted to his family.

Who say the clouds of life have not a silver lining? Look at little 4 year old Grover Reynolds, Watson, III. His father, Daniel W. Reynolds, after describing the little sufferer's long illness, continues: "Finally a gravel was forced into the urethra and removed, and dropsical effusions. He was treated by a council of eminent physicians. They made incisions to let the water out and finally properly advised an operation, but confessed the little sufferer was so weak death would likely result. I refused and began giving him Dr. Fenger's Kidney and Bladder Cure. Before one bottle had been entirely taken the stone had become so far dissolved by the remedy that it passed out of itself and the child is well and sound to-day. This shows its power in dissolving stone in all kidney diseases. Money returned on satisfaction not given. Take a bottle home to-day."

NOT LIKE NATURAL DEATH.

A Stimulated Article on the Stage Too Dramatic and Thrilling.

On the stage, where action is the primary demand in the climax of the play, death must be made dramatic. Perhaps one of the best known deaths on the stage is that of Camille in Alexandre Dumas' play. Camille is supposed to die from consumption, and the death comes from hemorrhage of the lungs. The action of the body following hemorrhage of the lungs has nothing dramatic about it. If the blood vessel which breaks is very large, there may be a semiconvulsion resulting from shock. Otherwise the death comes from loss of blood that pours from the mouth or from strangulation—that is, the lungs fill with blood so that the sufferer cannot breathe.

But such a death as this would not satisfy the demands of the stage or what are believed by many persons to be those demands, and we therefore see Camille in strong convulsions. There are many deaths on the stage in plays when the cause of death is supposed to be heart disease. As a matter of fact there are a number of diseases of the heart, in the majority of which the person dies because the heart simply stops beating. When this happens, a real death is like nothing so much as a faint or syncope, and the sufferer merely collapses, and the end has come.

About such deaths, however, there is nothing dramatic, and actors and actresses therefore generally choose to personate that form of heart disease known to physicians as angina pectoris. In this disease there is the most intense pain conceivable, and those suffering from it not only manifest the intolerable character of the pain by walking up and down, by moaning or crying, by throwing the arms about and sometimes by clutching the chest with the clenched fist, but they often have convulsions in which all parts or limbs of the body are violently distorted. This disease gives any person ample opportunity for action.

In many plays the characters are supposed to take poison, and the popular belief as to the effects of the poison is as mistaken as it is well can be. Colic follows swallowing arsenic. It is ordinarily believed that the effect of laudanum or of opium in any form is to put a person to sleep. Not so. It causes the slow, steady, and one sink into a profound slumber, where you are watching something that never yet took place. The secondary effect of opium on probably 90 per cent of human beings is to put them to sleep, and as this effect is much more lasting than the first excitement, it has possession of the popular mind. The convulsions which so often follow the taking of poison on the stage may be produced by a common poison—strychnine. Properly used, strychnine does not produce convulsions in which there is a great and rapid movement of the limbs. The muscles of the back and the great flexor muscles of the legs and thighs are contracted into a sort of prolonged rigidity so that the sufferer is bent backward like a bow and often is supported by his head and limbs, the body being arched between.

Mlle. Croisette, in Paris, when playing in "La Sphinx" created a great sensation and made a name for herself. She went to Dr. Charcot, the eminent physician, of Paris, and learning from him the effects of poisons cause strychnine and had the play as it is presented in the play. She studied carefully all that books could tell her and then procured several dogs and gave them the poison, watching the spasms that followed. She produced such a perfect simulation of the results following the swallowing of strychnine that not only the daily press praised her, but one of the medical journals devoted quite long article to this part of the play and advised medical students to go to the theater for the purpose of studying the symptoms of poisoning by strychnine. For one conviction that you will find on the stage, however, you will easily see 100 victims of poison who simply cause the physician to smile.—North American Review.

Two Climates in Madagascar.

The island of Madagascar has two distinct climates, two classes of natives and two classes of fauna and flora. The island is about the size of France. Along the coast it is tropical and malarious, and the natives are darker and larger than in the interior. The interior is a high tableland and mountainous. There the climate is cooler and the natives smaller and lighter in color than on the coast, but in the interior they are more intelligent and they rule the island.—Philadelphia Press.

Not a French Kid.

"Have you any shoes that will fit the little girly?" inquired a son of the green isle of a dapper young clerk in a Washington street shoe store the other day.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "We carry a full line for children's wear. Stop this way, please. French kid shoes. No, he goes. She's Irish."—Boston Globe.
